

Oklahoma Solons Defy Governor's Jail Threat; To Meet To Consider Charges Against Him

21 Charges Made Against Walton

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 20.—(By the Associated Press)—Twenty-one charges are listed in the legislative call as "now openly asserted and charged throughout the state," against Governor Walton.

They are: That he had refused to permit execution of state laws most wholesome and for the public good.

Stated officially he will not permit capital punishment "thus encouraging the assembling in this state of the worst class of criminals, murderers and gunmen, which has tended to encourage the commission of crime."

Abused the pardon and parole power.

Authorized numbers of persons to carry arms.

Appointed convicts as peace officers.

Recognized the right of a minority to rule and dictate the policies of state government.

Approved publicly "a doctrine which would substitute for our representative government a system of group dictations such as exists in Russia."

"Combined with others to subject the people to a jurisdiction foreign to the constitution and unacknowledged by our laws."

Excited class antagonism and endeavored to array class against class and religion against religion, thereby to gain his political aims and desires.

Directed certain classes to shoot and kill others, offering immediate pardons.

Assumed into himself legislative authority in opposition to the constitution and laws of the state."

Appointed multitudes of new officers and sent them throughout the state to harass the people "and make them bow to his acts of despotism."

Called out the National Guard without justice, placed the state under martial law without just cause and has stationed soldiers in certain communities without reason, therefore, in open violation and contravention of all established usages and precedents, all to the humiliation and shame of the people, at a great expense to the tax payers and a blot upon the fair name of the commonwealth.

Arbitrarily set aside the writ of habeas corpus.

Through threats and otherwise sought to render the military independent of and superior to the civil powers.

"That he is establishing, in effect, a dictatorship to supplant constitutional government and using the military force to enforce his decrees."

"That because of his opposition to an initiated legislative petition providing for the convening of the legislature which petition had been signed by more than 50,000 legal voters of this state, he caused many departmental clerks, at state expense and in open violation of our statutes, to spend much time in an endeavor to find discrepancies in said petitions."

That after a special grand jury had been called by the district judge to investigate into these unlawful acts, that he, in his eagerness to avoid such investigation and the consequences thereof, and to secure immunity therefrom, he arbitrarily and without lawful excuse, declared martial law in the whole state.

That he took personal charge of said grand jury and ordered the same dissolved, caused many guns to be placed in strategic places around the court house of Oklahoma County (something which had not been done before in one hundred and forty-seven years), and by military force refused to permit the courts of justice to function.

Each and every one of which acts, were calculated to complete his dictatorship and in total disregard and violation of the constitution and laws of the United States and of the state of Oklahoma.

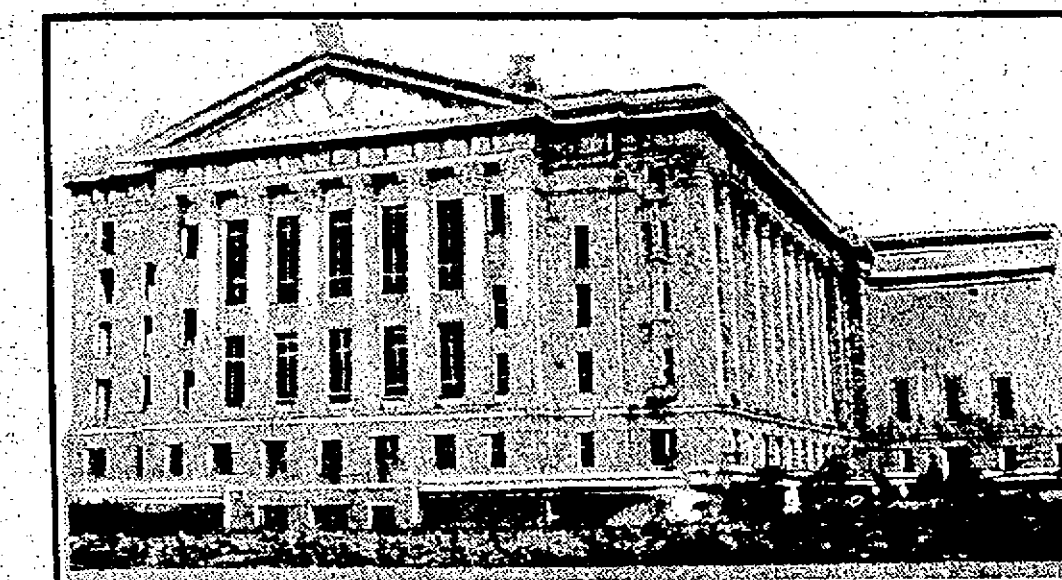

Threatened to arrest the representatives if they should attempt to assemble.

Denied freedom of speech and of the press.

Placed a censorship on the movement of troops "notwithstanding the fact that no single gesture or overt act has been committed in opposition to military rule; and that he has acted without cause and without provocation, suspended private business in this state."

The man who proclaimed martial law—Governor J. C. Walton.

All eyes in Oklahoma City are centered on the State Capitol building. The military, under martial law, has assumed command, refusing to permit special legislative gatherings. Across the street from the building machine guns have been mounted, trained on the Capitol.

Mayor O. A. Cargill of Oklahoma City formerly was a traffic policeman. He studied last night, was admitted to the bar, became county prosecutor, and finally elected mayor.

Walton's Scalp Is Sought By Officials

OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLA., Sept. 20.—(By the Associated Press)—Events in Oklahoma moved today toward a showdown between Governor J. C. Walton and members of the state legislature over the executive's exercise of authority and his war on the Ku Klux Klan and mob loggers.

A call for an extraordinary session of the lower house to consider a series of charges that Governor Walton has taken unto himself the powers of a despot and has supplanted constitutional government with a dictatorship was issued early this morning.

The call was made public by W. D. McBeck, representative from Stephens County, and bore the names of forty-five house members with the promise that during the day the list would grow to fifty-four constituting a majority of the house.

Near of next Wednesday is the hour fixed for the assembling of the law makers.

Do Not Fear Jail Threat

Representative McBeck declared that he anticipated no attempt by the governor to carry out his threat to jail the legislators in the event that they convened.

"The folly of attempting to carry out his threat to arrest members has been made apparent to him. He realizes that the call is legal and cannot be forestalled," McBeck asserted.

"At almost the same moment the legislative call was promulgated, Governor Walton announced to the people of the state in a proclamation to repudiate the attempt of the law makers to assemble, charging that those sponsoring the movement are 'Klan members of the legislature' inspired by the invisible empire and aided by the Klan press."

That was stated by Representative McBeck that Governor Walton, in conjunction with Murray of Gibson, speaker of the house, was contemplating the issuance of a call for a special session "in a last, desperate effort with the hope that some of the boys might be won over to a cause by a show of desire to remedy a situation he has created," McBeck released the call drawn by house members, he explained "to beat the Governor to it."

"Advised" To Leave; 2000 Negroes Flee

JOHNSTOWN, PA., Sept. 20.—(By the Associated Press)—Although declaring that "about 2,000 negroes have gone within the last three weeks," Mayor Joseph Coughlin denied that he issued a formal order to deport all negroes not residents of the city for at least seven years. The mayor insisted his statement in a newspaper interview which said "for their own safety, I am ordering all newly arrived negro citizens to leave town," was not a formal order.

He had "advised" Mexicans to leave town too, the mayor said, because he feared they might be mistaken for negroes if the people of the city should "wreak vengeance" on the negroes for the killing of three police officers by a drink-crazed negro recently.

Periodic searches are being made of negroes for weapons by the police, and sale and display of fire-arms has been forbidden, the mayor said, but police are not being used to compel negroes to quit Johnstown.

Pennsylvania railroad officials declared the negro exodus is no greater than that at this season and place, the number who have left since Mayor Coughlin's newspaper interview at not more than several hundred.

Girl Taken From Escort, Attacked By Bandits

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 20.—(By the Associated Press)—Miss Florence Essick, 19, was suffering from severe nervous shocks and bruises and lacerations today as a result of being kidnapped and attacked after being dragged from her escort's automobile by three youthful bandits late last night, while her companion, Nicholas Paul, was robbed of $12 and held at bay by revolvers in the hands of the abductors.

He was marooned in the country when the bandits took his car and took the key. The girl was held captive by the thugs while they drove for more than two hours through country roads and robbed a farmer of his truck when their own stolen car ran out of gasoline.

The three youths were arrested while they were driving back to the city after releasing the girl. Miss Essick told her story to the kidnappers and attack to relatives and they notified police.

Miss Essick appeared at the police station this morning and identified the three men under arrest as her abductors. They gave their names as Harry Burrows, 17, Gilbert Davenport, 17, and Andrew Quinn, 21.

Quinn faces charges of assault, robbery and auto stealing. The others held under age, were committed to the juvenile court under delinquency charges.

Charge Girl Victim Of Police Abuse

DETROIT, MICH., Sept. 20.—(By the Associated Press)—While three physicians appointed by Coroner James E. Burgess today examined the body of Gladys Lore, 13-year-old girl, who, her father alleges died Saturday as a result of mistreatment by police while under arrest on a charge of grand larceny, police are on guard in the vicinity of the girl's home to prevent any demonstration.

Two riot calls were sent to police headquarters last night and early today as a result of alleged demonstrations.

John Lore, father of the girl, says his daughter told him just before she died that police had abused her and forced her to take ice baths in an attempt to make her confess to the robbery of $100 from Joseph E. Anderson, who lived in the building. He says there were bruises on the girl's body when it was brought from the hospital.

According to the report of James Sprout, assistant superintendent of the police, the girl was arrested September 11 and sent at once to the Juvenile Detention Home. The following day she was removed to a hospital and died Saturday as the result of acute pleurisy. The report says the girl was delirious when she talked to her father and the marks on her body were the result of hypodermic injections and of an autopsy performed with the father's permission.

The father's story of police abuse resulted in hundreds of persons, many of them Polish, gathered outside the police station today, demanding coming to view the body. Last night a mob, estimated by police at between 4,000 and 5,000 packed the streets, yards and porches for two blocks in either direction from the house where the body of the girl lay. One of the mob threw a brick at a policeman standing to keep order. When the man was placed under arrest, several hundred persons charged the police, three of whom were slightly injured. The police backed away from the mob and a riot call was turned in.

Shortly before midnight police dispersed the crowd around the house. Two hours later information was telephoned to the Cleveland Street Police Station, a few blocks from the scene of the trouble, that a mob, armed with shot guns and rifles was assembling around the station. A second riot call was sent in and police armed with riot guns guarded the Cleveland Street Station throughout the night, but no further trouble was reported.

A meeting has been arranged by a Polish newspaper for tonight to raise funds to press the investigation into the girl's death. The coroner has announced an inquest be held after the report of physicians who examined the body today is received.

11 Year Old Boy Enters College

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 20.—(By the Associated Press)—Moses Einfeldstein, 11 years old, matriculated into full standing as a Freshman at Syracuse University. He has in this city, and was graduated from a local high school last June as a valedictorian of his class.

Writing his impressions for the Syracuse Post Standard, the boy told of his selection of studies.

"First I considered English as a necessary subject, no matter what I intend to take up in future years, for without a good knowledge of English it is rather hard to get along in the world," Moses wrote.

Next, I picked out Mathematics because a good knowledge of that branch of study tends to produce accuracy. Then I decided that foreign languages, Science, Philosophy and History were the other courses that I ought to take this year. In order to fit myself for the more mature subjects to be studied in my Junior and Senior years at the University.

Moses, wearing short trousers, and looking his eleven years, was a conspicuous figure on the campus. He is not so much a student of books that he is uninterested in other people, and he included in his report of his first day in the collegiate realm, the following sentence:

"I eagerly walked around the University grounds, looking at everybody and everything around me, because I realized that, although I am going to the University primarily for educational purposes, the education which comes from association with men from all over the country and from foreign countries, is not to be underestimated."

Cabinet Takes Up Farming Situation

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—(By the Associated Press)—The administration is studying the agricultural situation in the west with the purpose of determining on some program of relief if possible within the next ten days.

That the problem during the period will receive the energetic attention of President Coolidge and his advisors, was stated by Senator Borah, of Idaho, after an hour's conference with the executive last night at the White House. Senator Borah said that the President, that from his own investigation he believed the entire agricultural situation west of the Mississippi had never been more serious than it is at this time.

As to the question of calling an extra session of Congress to deal with the situation Senator Borah said that he had been discussing with the President the President's view that effort to bring a program for this purpose should be made before an extra session was called.

"If we cannot find a remedy before such a session," the Senator said, "we probably could not find one afterwards."

Not only the wheat growers but producers of other crops are facing difficulties, Senator Borah declared, adding that corn and sugar beets, however, were "on ice in the desert."

In the midst of his testimony, Lieutenant Blodgett was interrupted to be informed by the court that he had been found an "interested party" to the inquiry and should know that it was his right as a defendant to obtain counsel.

His efforts to have his testimony stricken from the record after this announcement were overruled by Admiral W. X. Pratt, presiding member of the court.

Thirteen naval officers now stand as "interested parties" in the status of defendants with respect to the destroyer disaster investigation.

New York Newspapers Crippled By Press Strike

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—(By the Associated Press)—New York's newspaper pressmen's strike, which has curtailed publication of all leading dailies since Tuesday morning, faced little prospect of immediate settlement today, the publishers at a meeting last night having rejected proposals put forth by the local union and demanded that George L. Berry, president of the International Union, revoke the local's charter and form a new organization.

Whether this request would be granted, Mr. Berry declined last night to say. He previously had ordered the men to return to work, characterizing their walk-out as illegal, and telling them "the charter would be taken away if they did not break the strike."

A meeting of officers of the International Union was called for this morning and it was expected definite action one way or another, on the owner's request, would result.

The owners, in their statement, characterized the strikers as "a mob" and declared they would have no further dealings with their organization. They said they would continue to publish combined editions of both morning and evening newspapers, which they have done since the strike started.

Police reserves sent to the press room entrance of the Daily News this morning, scattered a crowd with night sticks.

Charges Radio Signals Ignored

SAN DIEGO, CALIF., Sept. 20.—(By the Associated Press)—The log of a radio compass station signals of which the navigator of destroyers were disregarded on the night of September 8 when a change of course to the eastward carried seven vessels of the squadron squarely into the rocks off Honda, California, is scheduled for court for comparison with the previous testimony of witnesses concerning radio compass signals, it was announced today.

According to the testimony of Lieutenant Laurence F. Blodgett, navigator aboard the Delphy flagship of the squadron, the bearings sent out from Point Arguello were "entirely unsatisfactory," so much so in fact, that when they indicated the squadron was north of Point Arguello, where it would be perilous to turn east, he and the commanding officer of the Delphy did not hesitate to decide on an eastward change of course in spite of them, secure in belief that the radio station was "turned around" in its signals and was sending them exactly the reverse of what they might expect.

Receipt of repeated bearings indicating that the squadron still was north of Point Arguello did not raise any doubt in Lieutenant Blodgett's mind as to the exact location of his ship, he testified, even though the last of such bearings, received about two minutes before the change of course and seven minutes before the crash, showed them still several miles to the north of the point.

In the midst of his testimony, Lieutenant Blodgett was interrupted to be informed by the court that he had been found an "interested party" to the inquiry and should know that it was his right as a defendant to obtain counsel.

His efforts to have his testimony stricken from the record after this announcement were overruled by Admiral W. X. Pratt, presiding member of the court.

Thirteen naval officers now stand as "interested parties" in the status of defendants with respect to the destroyer disaster investigation.

Donahay, Fess, Willis And Others Subpoenaed

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 20.—(By the Associated Press)—Governor A. V. Donahay was asked to take the witness stand today in the conspiracy trial of Joseph A. Shearer, former Federal Prohibition Director for Ohio, Fred Counts, former Federal Prohibition Agent for the Cleveland district, and two other defendants in Federal Court here.

Governor Donahay, with United States Senators S. D. Fess and F. B. Willis, former Governors James M. Cox and James E. Campbell and several other prominent Ohioans, were subpoenaed as character witnesses for Shearer and Counts. The governor declared he would come but that he preferred to send a deposition. He was asked to appear himself as his deposition would not be accepted by the court.

Samuel A. Hoskins, one of the defendants who was on the witness stand when court adjourned yesterday, resumed his testimony in his own behalf today. It is also expected that Fred Counts and his brother, A. Frank Counts, another of the defendants, also would testify today. Shearer completed his testimony yesterday.

Hoskins, in denying charges made on the witness stand by Louis Auerbach and Samuel Rembrandt, testified yesterday that the only money he took from Auerbach and Rembrandt was $500, which he declared was a peddler.

Revolt In Bulgaria

ATHENS, Sept. 20.—(By the United Press)—Bulgarian insurgents composed chiefly of Agrarians and Communists, have occupied the District of Casalika, an unconfirmed message from Salonika said today.

Messages from Sofia said insurrectionary movement caused by the continued policy of the Zankoff government in arresting and prosecuting the Agrarians and Communists. Adversely will be suppressed as it started prematurely. Leaders were over-estimated because of stiff terms to the Jugo-Slav note to Sofia and rumored concentration of Serbian forces on the Bulgarian frontier.

It also was believed Russia is secretly encouraging the revolt.

Noted Character Dies

PADEMAH, KY., Sept. 20.—(By the Associated Press)—Samuel Eels, recognized here as the original of "Mr. Felsberg" in Irvin S. Cobb's Judge Priest stories, and one of the pioneer wholesale merchants of Paducah, died yesterday following a brief illness of pneumonia. He was about 90 years old and came to this country from Germany when a boy, beginning his business career as a peddler.

Ford Says Army And Navy Should Help Enforce Prohibition

MONTREAL, Sept. 20.—(By the Associated Press)—"I am not running for or against anything," said Henry Ford when asked if he intended to run for President of the United States, according to an interview published in the Montreal Herald today. "You know," he added, "your colleagues across the border will copy everything you print. They have been asking me questions for a long time."

Mr. Ford passed through this city enroute from his home in Detroit to St. Harb, Maine, where his family is at present.

He said he was neither a Democrat
nor a Republican. "They will have to show me a difference," he declared,

"before I affiliate with either party.
They are both tarred with the same brush."

Asked what he thought of Prohibition, Mr. Ford said the law should be obeyed, adding "they should put
the army and navy onto it."

OMAHA, NEB., Sept. 20.—(By the Associated Press)—An interview with Henry Ford within the next two weeks to determine if the Detroit manufacturer will accept the nomination for the presidency on the Independent, Progressive ticket in 1924, is being sought by Roy M. Harrop, of Omaha, National chairman of the party and president of the American Economic League organized here some time ago to run Mr. Ford for President and to bring about what it refers to as "economic stabilization of the United States."

In a letter mailed to Mr. Ford, Chairman Harrop declared that letters and telegrams from practically every state in the Union were being received requesting permission to circulate petitions to place his name on the ballot of an Independent Progressive ticket, but at the same time were asking if he would accept the nomination if it were offered him.

Emancipation Day Is Celebrated

Under dark lowering clouds, which threatened to weep copiously, local colored citizens and their families mobilized in Millbrook park today to hold their annual Emancipation Day celebration, instead of Saturday, the day on which it falls this year.

An athletic program was scheduled

the Millbrook Pavilion tonight. The committee on arrangements includes

Troy Jamison, Roland Tanner,
Samuel Payne, Paul Melvin, Jesse
White and Jean Pettiford.

Live Model Exhibit At Andersons'

Something different in the line of living model exhibits will be the display of garments for stout women which will be staged in the apparel
shop, second floor, of the Anderson store on Friday and Saturday of this week. The exhibit will use New York fashion models, but not the customary slim and willowy kind. They are women of full form typical of the class of women-folks call large and who frequently have trouble getting fitted with ready-to-wear apparel.

While the exhibit is particularly for the benefit of large women, everybody is invited and in order that all may be accommodated in the rather small space, Andersons have provided three separate entrances, one from 10 to 11 a. m. and 2 to 3 p. m., Friday, and 10 to 11 a. m. Saturday.

Many Soft Drink Parlors

Raided By Flying Squadron

Twelve prohibition officers working under the personal direction of F. S. Evans, Deputy State Prohibition Commissioner, swooped down upon the city Thursday, and their activities resulted in the arrest of 23 men and one woman between the hours of 8 a. m. and 12 m. All of the places being raided with violating the prohibition laws in one form or another. All were lodged behind the bars of the county jail until the time for their arraignment, late this afternoon, before Squire J. L.
Rickey of New Boston. Not one of the number was permitted to give bond until after arraignment.

The raids followed by arrests are
the result of secret visits of prohibition men here during the last couple of weeks. The enforcement officers were here only a few days and it is said they visited a number of soft-drink parlors and purchased some drinks and secured the address and came back to-day prepared for wholesale raids on these places under suspicion.

The local Klan organization is said to have had a part in the series of raids, tips being furnished the visiting officers by Klan members, they said. A leader of the Klan here was a caller at the office of Sheriff Harry Dunham at noon and complimented the officers on the progress they were making.

Included in the list of officers are several who have been caught up once or twice before on liquor violations.
Stiff sentences and probable closing of several places of business are expected in these cases. Federal Prohibition officer F. W. Rickey was also in the city this morning, but did not take an active part in the early raids.

Later he went out and "yanked in three prisoners."

The list of 24 includes Charles Kratzer, 30, Harry Archer, 37, William G. Reesor, 60, Charles Conrad, 33, Walter McCoy, 22, Fred Leneagar,
47, Joseph Ginn, 25, Cole Redden, 32,
Dewey Himes, 25, Walter Evans, 35,
Dan Jarrell, 20, Earl Shaw, 27,
George Brown, 37, Emma Redder, 39,
Samuel McGraw, 38, Barney O'Con-
ner, George Jones, Norris Bishop, Taylor Gartner, "Red" Redder, Emory Castle, Charles Squires, Albert Sly and Holly Whitman. Possessed, selling and keeping a place where intoxicating liquor is sold are the charges against the alleged violators, some being charged with possessing, others selling and other keeping a place while some may face two or three charges.

The National Cafe, 743 Second street, was the first place visited by one group of officers.

Kratzer, Archer and Reesor were taken into custody. Kratzer is charged with keeping a place and the other men with possession and selling. A door to the cellar steps was broken down.
A big empty jug, package of corks,
Mason jars of moonshine and a half-
pint bottle with some "moon" in it were found.

The state officers then brought in
"Red" Redder, from Eleventh street, and later Holly Whitman. Whitman had been a caller at the Sheriff's office about a half hour before, but they then did not know he was wanted. Redder is charged with possession and Whitman with keeping a place.

PRISONERS ARE ARRAIGNED

Harry Castor, Former Dry Sleuth Fined; Sent To Jail

Nine of twelve persons indicated by the recent grand jury arraigned before Judge Thomas, in Common Pleas Court, Thursday morning, admitted guilt and were sentenced,
while the other three pleaded not guilty and will stand trial.

Harry Castor, former New Boston Constable, and State Prohibition Officer, was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to jail for 30 days under his plea of guilty to assault and battery upon James Wilson, also of New Boston, on August 10 last.

Toney Maskey admitted guilt of stealing $50 from Mayor W. N. Gable-man's office at the Play House last June and he was fined $50 and costs
and sent to jail for ten days.

tenced to the Mansfield Reformatory
for shooting with intent to wound Milton Robinson.

Frank Austin and Fred M. Morris, charged with grand larceny in connection with the theft of an automobile tire from a machine parked at East Portsmouth, were permitted to plead guilty to the lesser offense of petit larceny. As they had already served 43 days in jail the court let them off with a fine of $25 and costs and 10 days in jail.

William Smith, 23 years old, employed as traveling salesman of this city, was sentenced to the Mansfield Reformatory
on August 3, was sentenced to the Mansfield Reformatory.

Delmar Jones admitted breaking into a garage and stealing E. J. Maynard's automobile on August 26 and his case was passed for further investigation.

Kenneth W. Davis, 20 years old, traveling salesman of this city, was sentenced to the Mansfield Reformatory
under his plea of guilty to a charge of issuing an invalid check on an Ashburnham bank to the First National Bank of this city, on July 21.
In the sum of $1,234.11. Two other indictments charging similar offenses were nolleed on motion of the prosecutor.

John Marion Shaw, Odle Creek
farmer, charged with arson in connection with the destruction by fire of a house owned by the state on the Roosevelt Game Preserve last May, pleaded not guilty. He is represented by Attorney T. C. Beatty.

Delbert Hale and Jeff Gilliam, New Boston young men, indicted jointly for alleged assault with intent to kill
C. M. Copas on August 15 pleaded not guilty. They will be brought to trial next Tuesday and Attorney Theodore K. Pink will defend them.

public, according to Mr. Bierley, an O. S. U. student, who with Russell Payne, of Cincinnati, are "roughing it" through Europe.

Former Local Residents Suffer Loss In Berkeley, Cal., Fire

Word has been received here
that Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Chick, former residents of this city, who left Portsmouth four years ago, lost everything in the disastrous fire which swept Berkeley, Cal., several days ago.
They had just moved into a new apartment building there and it was destroyed so quickly that Mr. and Mrs. Chick did not have any time to save any of their household goods or personal belongings. Their loss is covered by insurance.

Mrs. Irving Drew received a message from Mr. and Mrs.
Chick, conveying the news of their misfortune.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis T. Spencer, formerly of this city, also reside in Berkeley, but were out of the fire zone.

Some Car

PLAINVILLE, CONN., Sept.
20.—(By the Associated Press)—
James Parsons drove onto a crossing today with a small automobile as a switching engine with freight cars approached. The train hit the automobile broadside
and threw it into a ditch. Witnesses helped Parsons to place it back on the road. Then he cranked it and drove off.

Enrich Your Blood

With This Newer Form of Iron

The teeth and upset the stomach. Their chemists experimented to produce a newer form of iron, like the iron in your blood, because they realized that the old metallic iron often blackened the teeth and upset the stomach. Their examinations proved that three people out of every four were deficient in iron content in the blood and that thousands were weak, sick, nervous, ailing and run-down, and suffering from all sorts of alarming symptoms, when as a matter of fact their trouble was all due to iron starvation of the blood. At last they discovered this newer form of iron like the iron in spinach, fruits and apples in highly concentrated form. It quickly helps put strength into your muscles, and color into your cheeks. Get your doctor to take your red blood count today, then take this newer form of iron known as Nuxated Iron, for a few weeks and watch your red blood corpuscles increase; see how much purer and richer your blood becomes; how much stronger and better you feel; what difference it makes in your nerve. Over 4,000,000 people annually are using Nuxated Iron. Your money will be refunded if you do not obtain satisfactory results in ten days. Form only. At all druggists.—Advertisement.

Kiwanians Hear Talk On "Constitution"

Practically a 100 per cent attendance marked Wednesday's noon luncheon of the local Kiwanis Club held at the Mary Louise. The headline on the program was Hon. Henry T. Bannion, who delivered a most able address on the federal constitution. This week, following the recommendation of the American Bar Association, is known as Constitution Week, and is being observed by practically all civic clubs throughout the entire United States. Mr. Bannion's address was wonderfully well received and he was compelled to howl to the applause that greeted him at the close.

His address will likely appear in the Sunday issue of the Sunday Sun-Times and should be read by every liberty loving citizen. He was followed by Judge James S. Thomas and Judge A. T. Holcomb, both of whom were honored guests of the club. Their remarks, while impromptu, nevertheless were filled with thought and caused the members to ponder over the fundamental laws of the land.

The meeting was one of the best in the history of the local club. An invitation was received from Mr. J. M. Stockum to hold a meeting at his orchard near Henley within the very near future. Needless to add the invitation was accepted unanimously.

RESIDENT REPRESENTATIVES WANTED IN ALL PARTS OF OHIO.

The vigorous enforcement of the Ohio "Blue Sky" Law by the Division of Securities, Department of Commerce of Ohio, has resulted in reducing the number of security dealers in the state from 1,495 to 433 and their salesmen from 5,515 to 1,381. During the past seven months the Department has refused or revoked certificates for over three hundred million dollars per value of securities. This means that in Ohio the sale of high class securities by reputable, ethical dealers offers an attractive, remunerative field for dependable men of established reputation associated with first class organization. We specialize in Bank and Trust Company stocks, Government, Municipal and Public Utility Bonds and the stocks and bonds of established industries. We desire to establish permanent relations with resident representatives in every part of the state who will be granted exclusive territory and with whom we will work closely to build up a worth-while clientele. Bankers, brokers, lawyers, teachers, insurance men are all eligible for our franchise and qualifications will receive careful consideration and all communications will be treated in strictest confidence.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., September 20 — Harry S. New, postmaster general, today declared he was certain that President Coolidge will be the Republican party's presidential nominee in 1924. Mr. New arrived here today for a two-day visit and called at Republican state headquarters. "There is no doubt whatever in my mind," said Mr. New, "but that Mr. Coolidge will be, as he very rightly should be, the nominee of the party in 1924. That seems to have been taken by unanimous consent and approval."

Road Improvement

Sought By Mr. Frick

Manager Adam Frick has sent a communication to John Graham, deputy of the State Highway Department, Chicago, in which he makes a plea for some action on the improvement of the short stretch of Lawrence county road between Elford and the Oak Hill-Black Ford road. The letter follows:

"May I not bring to your attention a piece of roadway in Lawrence county, right on the edge of Jackson and Sevier counties leading from Oak Hill to Portsmouth that should be put in shape for year-round travel. This is on road 402."

"It seems that the commissioners of Lawrence county are not concerned about this piece of pike because if it was improved, it would perhaps tend to divert travel from Ironton. That is not the right spirit and perhaps is not the spirit they have."

"Simon Labold, president of the First National Bank here, first called my attention to this last season, and in turn it was taken up with the department at Columbus. Mr. Labold had interest in that section which required him driving out that way and often it is impossible to negotiate this stretch."

"If you can have this improvement made you will be doing that which not alone our people, but all those living along this artery, will appreciate."

"I am certain you will see the justice of this appeal and have the commissioners give attention to it."

"With assurance of respect, I am Very truly yours,
THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.
Per ADAM FRICK, Manager."

Labor Disturbances Most Serious Obstacle To Abundant Coal Output

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20—Labor disturbances are the most serious obstacle to super-abundant production of coal in the United States, the Coal Commission declared today in a report to President Coolidge on the subject of "Irregular operation and over-development of the bituminous industry."

While "ineffective transportation machinery was said to lend its effect to fuel shortages, the commission concludes that "the strike of the mine workers is the only bar to continuous production considerably in excess of the present possibility of consumption."

To attempt to solve the problem solely by improving transportation, the report said, would be "simply to transfer to the railroad industry" the over-development now seen in the coal industry and to necessarily increase freight rates. It was estimated that the railroads would entail an expenditure of $2,000,000,000 if they set out to build up their equipment to the point where it could serve the peak demand for fuel, which would impose an additional charge on coal of about 40 cents a ton.

"The alternative is better use of transportation facilities currently available," the commission decided.

Two National Strikes

Commenting upon the labor factor in recurring shortages, the report said: "There have been but two national strikes of the union coal miners (since 1915), that of November-December, 1919, cutting off some 70 per cent of the coal output, and that of the summer of 1922, affecting the bituminous coal fields completely for about five months. The loss of production occasioned by these concerted withdrawals of the organized mine workers has in each instance caused such general shortage of coal that even after resumption of mining there were long periods of insistent demand and high prices. The strike of the mine workers is the only bar to the continuous production of bituminous at a rate considerably in excess of any present possibility of consumption by the industries, railroads and households of this country, and of demand for export."

Abundant Coal Reserves.

"The bituminous coal industry rests upon abundant, unmined reserves. The capacity in mines and mining labor is sufficient to produce at least 25 per cent more than the highest rate attained in proceeds of peak demand, and if demand were spread evenly over the year, the over-development would be even more pronounced. The facilities of the railroads, necessary to carry coal from mines to consumers, have not been sufficient in the past eight years to transport as much coal per week as at times the consumers of the country wanted and as the mines were able to dig and load into railroad cars."

"Field strikes, notably those in the central competitive field, were potent factors in forcing the over-development of the soft coal fields, both union and non-union. The two national strikes had that effect in marked degree on the non-union fields."

Steps Are Recommended.

The commission recommended, as a means of obviating the present evils of coal shortages, in addition to removal of underlying causes of strikes, the following steps: Change of system of coal allocation so as to give first consideration to "the commercial ability of the producer to sell coal rather than to the ability to produce and load it."

Dangers Of "Constitution" Outlined To Exchanges By Russell McCurdy

Probably the most profitable discussion since the club was organized, was enjoyed last evening by the Exchange Club when "Constitution" was recognized, through a splendid address by Attorney Russell McCurdy, a member of the club. As is generally known the object of calling attention to the "Constitution" is to cause citizens in general to reflect over just what the United States of America means to them, and to the world, and to cause them to take enough interest in the ideals of their country, to see that dangerous groups do not gain undue influence.

In his able presentation of the objects of the meeting, Attorney McCurdy sketched the background, the setting, that made the constitution possible, and pointed out in brief manner the attitude of mind of the men who framed it. He showed how they were fearful of religious tolerance, how they desired equality under the laws for all, and how a government of laws and not of men was sought.

Dangers to the "Constitution" were outlined by the speaker as coming under three heads: Radicalism, organized minorities and lack of interest on the part of the citizens in general. He urged a return to a feeling of individual responsibility when matters affecting the general welfare were at stake.

A striking part of the address was the speaker's reference to the speech of Benjamin Franklin during the meeting of the delegates who framed the constitution. Franklin pointed out that the men had been meeting for weeks without reaching agreement. He then said that if there reigned above a God who took cognizance of the fall of a sparrow, and the men assembled believed this, how could they expect to create a new nation without Divine guidance. He therefore moved that thereafter they invite ministers of the city to open the meetings with prayers for guidance. This motion prevailed, and was carried into action, and from that time on the Constitution began to take definite form.

This and other interesting facts were brought out to show just how the drafters of the document felt and how we should feel toward what they created.

Numerous questions were asked of the speaker following his address, and undoubtedly the influence of the meeting will widen during the coming year.

At a short business session Ben Selby reported that arrangements had been completed for the ball game at Huntington with the Huntington Exchange club team on September 26, and it is hoped the entire local membership will help their club win by being on hand to root for them.

Things Seen In Portsmouth

Mother slapping her daughter's face when she caught her on Eighth and Chillicothe streets with a sweetie she did not like.

Over-anxious salesman telling a bachelor girl to coax her husband (?) into buying an electric washing machine. The joke was on the salesman, even if he did try to wish an imaginary husband on the young lady.

Handsome Chillicothe street woman rushing to church on Sunday morning, and forgetting to brush his long pompadour hair.

Friends trying to figure out "who's who" when two sisters alternate in wearing each other's clothes.

Young school girl resembling a hand-painted plate, with her large round face and lips painted a bright red. Her mother must have poor eyesight.

A North End married man walking up and down Eleventh street trying to get a peep at another man's wife.

Dalton Held Following Robbery

Sam Dalton, negro, 38 years old, was arrested at Fifth and Chillicothe streets last night by Officer Cox and is held at the police station on an investigation charge. He is thought to know something of the robbery of the Ambrose Brown home rear of 1012 Twelfth street, Tuesday afternoon. A gun, suit of clothes and other wearing apparel were taken. A negro reported to the police yesterday that a man tried to sell him a revolver and the description given is said to fit Dalton according to the police. Dalton claims he can account for all his movements Tuesday afternoon.

The Brown home is less than 50 yards from the Lowell Burchett shoe store which was robbed of 25 pairs of shoes Monday night.

Mr. Frick Hears From Mr. Ford About Local Water Power

That Henry Ford has not been asleep as to the possibilities of the undeveloped Tygart Valley is indicated in a letter Manager Adam Frick of the Chamber of Commerce, has received from the auto manufacturer's office. The letter is in reply to a communication Mr. Frick sent to Henry Ford pointing out the possibilities of Tygart Valley.

and urging that a representative be sent to look over the water power facilities of Tygart Creek where it is said unlimited electrical power is harnessed. It is also said that coal in considerable quantity lies in the Tygart Valley. The letter received in reply was as follows:

"We have, admittedly, considerable information regarding potential water powers in your vicinity but no definite plans have been made."

"The letter Mr. Frick sent out was as follows: 'There is contingent to this city an undeveloped water power, the stream furnishing the flow of which extends far back into coal fields that are long awaited by the community of industry and homes and which presents a prospect unusual to the time.'"

"On the one side — the south — where is found this condition, is the state of Kentucky, on the other side is the splendid city of Portsmouth, Ohio, and to connect these two states and all of the interests referred to will require the installation of a bridge across the Ohio here at Portsmouth, and my purpose in bringing this to your attention is to ask that you permit some one of your trusted associates call here at the Chamber when next they are in the city to bring to the city and permit us to go over the matter with him and submit for his consideration just what is herein referred to."

"Without doubt there can be developed here a water power most sufficient the entire year from the flow of water down the Tygart Valley that will supply the electric power for the city and surroundings and we think that it should be developed."

"Then the connection that can be established with a bridge crossing the Ohio here will develop a section opposite the city here that will afford building sites in abundance and at a price that enterprises may prize themselves with such at a price commensurate with their earnings which is at this time not possible. A combination travel and railway bridge would be the type most essential to the situation because it would permit you to bring this coal by water to the mouth of the Tygart river where the bridge would cross and at which point coal could be transferred to your railway cars and sent on to the markets of the world."

"I should appreciate having your reply and encouragement such as will enable the matter to be pressed further looking to your counsel and advice just how to accomplish the development that we have now in mind."

Very truly,
THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE,
Per Adam Frick, Manager.

MR. ABNER WARD, COLUMBUS, O.

Mr. Abner Ward Recovers His Health After Doctors Had Given His Case Up as Hopeless.

Among the numerous statements endorsing Ka-di-ol which are being continually received is the following from Mr. Abner Ward, well-known conductor on the Mount Street car line of the Columbus Street Railway. He says: "I had been almost hopelessly ill with stomach and liver trouble and a general nervous breakdown. I had frequent dizzy spells and seldom found it possible to get to sleep when I went to bed, although I was all tired out. I called on doctors every few days, but they failed to help me and frankly told me they could offer me no encouragement of getting better. I had to do something but it was all I could do to work two or three days a week. A few months ago I heard about Ka-di-ol and started taking a treatment. It has helped me right along and up to the present time I have not lost a single day's time from my work. I am eating regularly and getting stronger all the time; I sleep soundly and get up rested, and have overcome my nervous trouble. I can truthfully say it has literally saved my life."

Ka-di-ol can be had at Fisher and Streich's and all other drug stores — advertisement.

CALCIUM WAFERS

BRING BEAUTY

How Stuart's Calcium Wafers Transform a Pimpled, Muddy Skin to Pinkish Loveliness.

It was certainly a most fortunate discovery when it was found that one of the necessary constituents of skin health is calcium sulphide.

About twenty-five years ago this important substance was incorporated in Stuart's Calcium Wafers and since then thousands of girls have enjoyed beautiful complexions.

This wonderful substance removes from the system the waste products that often get into the skin to cause pimples, blackheads, blotches and such complexion disfigurements. Then the calcium is a natural aid to skin repair and health.

You cannot get this wonderful result from cosmetics or drugs nor can you have a clear, beautiful complexion without this wonderful calcium. So when you are near a drug store ask for a 40 cent box of Stuart's Calcium Wafers or send name and address to F. A. Stuart Co., 631 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich., for a free trial package. # Council Passes Up Probe Of City's Financial Affairs; Flood Wall Extension Being Sought

The proposed probe of city financial affairs recently authorized by Council following allegations made by Mayor W. N. Gableman in a special message that city finances were in a tangled mess due to serious mismanagement in handling street and alley and sewer bond issues, was halted and left entirely abandoned by the legislative body at its regular meeting last night. This action came at the conclusion of a lengthy discussion of the proposition and after Senator Sherrard Johnson had given a verbal opinion that council had no authority under the law to appropriate funds to pay the expense of such an audit of the records.

Member Charles Whitl, representative from the Sciotoville district, who offered the original motion providing for the inquiry, through appointment of a non-partisan committee by President Albert Weghorst, took the stand last night, stating that it had been ruled by the solicitor it would be illegal to appropriate money to pay the investigators, the probe had better be called off. He fathered a motion calling off the proposed probe, remarking, "Let the matter stand as it has been and was." The motion passed without a dissenting vote from the eight members present, who let it become known they preferred to wait for the state examiner's report in the hope that it will aid them in straightening out the various charges and counter-charges.

The proposition was brought up when President Albert Weghorst, who it was to appoint a non-partisan committee to make the audit, advised council that he had failed to secure two local people for the job, and that he had sought experts elsewhere. At this juncture he introduced a representative of the accounting firm of Ernst and Ernst, Cincinnati, who proposed to make the audit at the rate of $25 a day for each man and $15 a day for a second man, if one was needed. He stated that his firm was in a position to the opinion that an audit of the city's more than 100 examinations made by state examiners, and render an impartial report. He advanced the opinion that an audit of the street and alley and sewer improvement funds would cost about $100 and that a complete survey of the accounts and records covering the past year would cost $700.

Legality Questioned

The legality of providing funds to pay the cost was questioned, and President Weghorst produced a letter from the state bureau of public accounting, which stated that public could appropriate the money if a balance existed in the general fund, and if there was necessity for such an investigation, which was a matter in the discretion of council to determine. The representative of the Cincinnati accounting firm stated that his concern was willing to do the work and take a chance on getting their money. They had consulted their attorney, Floyd H. Williams, and he had advised that the city could appropriate the necessary funds.

Miss Emma Cramer, chairman of the Finance committee, demanded to know the necessity of spending more money for an investigation of the books since the state examiner had been over the same ground and would soon make a report and she could neither see no reason, nor what was to be gained by such a probe at this time. She remarked that "We know the city is in arrears and that a bond issue will be necessary to meet the deficit." She was of the opinion that the new assessment clerk recently provided for by council could straighten out the matter.

Members Herr and Dickey took the same position as Miss Cramer, declaring they desired to wait on the state examiner's report, and expressed the opinion that if there is anything wrong the report will show it.

Member "Chick" Westphal pointed out that the controversy arose out of the mayor's charges that city funds involving street and alley and sewer improvement bond issues were in a tangled mess and declared that since the mayor had not accused anyone as being responsible for the situation, he could see no reason why anyone should defend themselves before being accused.

Mayor Gableman advised that the inspection here by the state department is not through by any means, explaining that a copy of his report was on file with the bureau in Columbus and that it would be given due consideration. He recalled that he had recommended that council authorize him to make the examination and stated that he had intended to appoint a committee of two Republicans to make the audit.

Seeks Damages

The claim of John Jones, West Side, for damages for burns he sustained in October 1922, when he struck a match, lighting a fire in a building on Sixth street, just west of Chillicothe, was referred to the law and claims committee. The claimant is represented by Attorney Theo. K. Funk.

A communication was read from the Chamber of Commerce, urging extension of the flood wall from Offshore street to Lawson Run, so as to give proper protection to citizens in that part of the city in flood times.

At the instance of Dr. E. C. Jackson, the engineer was ordered to establish grades in two alleys in the rear of the high school building, which the School Board desires to have.

The police and fire committee reported it had secured an option on a 24 foot lot on the south side of Main street, Sciotoville, to be used as a site for the proposed fire station there. The lot adjoins a 25 foot lot

Donahey Lilly White

retainer fee. Hoskins testified that he had been employed by Rembrandt as an attorney for Auerbach to act on an alcohol permit matter, and that he did not know Auerbach's alcohol.

He further stated that he believed Auerbach was conducting a legitimate business, inasmuch as he had furnished a bond of $100,000 to guarantee that the law would not be violated.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 20.—(By the Associated Press.)—Governor Donahey said this morning that he would not go to Cleveland to testify in the Shearer-Hoskins-Counts trial until he is subpoenaed. He said this morning that he expected to be subpoenaed today and that he probably would testify tomorrow.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 20.—Denial that he ever received a cent from Louis Auerbach or Samuel Rembrandt beyond his fees as attorney for Auerbach was made in Federal Court here today by Samuel A. Hoskins, Columbus attorney, the second of four defendants to testify in his own behalf in the conspiracy trial of four prominent Ohioans.

Hoskins also denied that he knew that Louis Auerbach was engaged in the illicit sale of alcohol. He took the witness stand after Joseph A. Shearer of Columbus, former Federal prohibition director for Ohio, had completed his testimony, and several other defense witnesses had testified. Shearer denied all knowledge of an alleged conspiracy to violate the national prohibition law.

Fred Counts, former Federal prohibition agent in Cleveland, and his brother, A. Frank Counts, the other defendants, also will be called to the stand to refute testimony given by Auerbach, Rembrandt and other government witnesses.

Louis Auerbach never told me and I did not know that he was engaged in the illicit sale of alcohol; on the other hand he represented to me always that he was in a large and legitimate business," Hoskins testified. Recalling his transactions with Auerbach and Rembrandt, Hoskins declared that he had been employed as an attorney for Auerbach through Rembrandt and that Rembrandt had paid him a retainer fee of $500.

Took Auerbach's Word.

In reply to a question by his counsel, Hoskins said he relied upon Auerbach's word that his business was legitimate. "Especially when I learned that he had furnished a bond of $100,000 as a guarantee that no law would be violated."

Hoskins gave explanations for several letters and telegrams which he had sent to Rembrandt and which had been introduced as evidence by the government. A letter declaring that "of course, care must be taken in the handling of the goods" meant that permits would have to be obtained for the transportation of liquor, which had been seized, if it were released, through the courts.

When asked what he meant by writing to Rembrandt that "I think I can get more alcohol but more care must be taken in the sale of same," Hoskins replied:

"Only that the difficulty of finding Cable had brought the threat that the Auerbach might be put out of business on suspicion and not on actual evidence of the law having been violated."

Couldn't Find Cable.

A shipment of Auerbach's products was addressed to J. E. Cable, Ashtland, O., but no person of that address was located and an investigation was declared to have disclosed that the bottles contained alcohol.

Auerbach told me he had affidavits prepared to show that it was a proper shipment, but I did not file them and I did not see them until Mr. Shearer showed them to me," Hoskins stated.

Asked what he said to Shearer, Hoskins replied: "That there was no law to my knowledge to compel a manufacturer to reveal his trade secrets. I told him what Auerbach had told me. Up to that time Auerbach had a good reputation and I believed he was telling me the truth. And Mr. Shearer then promised me to pass the withdrawal permits."

"Did you have an agreement with the prohibition enforcement officer as to the amount of alcohol to be released to Auerbach?"

"Yes, I said I thought he would need about 50 barrels a week for a while in view of an advertising program he was conducting."

Hoskins Is Prominent.

Asked to tell something of himself, Hoskins declared he practiced law 33 years, served as treasurer of Trenchard county and prosecutor of Anguize county, was a member of the Ohio Constitutional convention in 1912 and president of the First State Civil Service Commission for two years.

Besides serving as president and director of a number of private enterprises including printing, coal, insurance and spark plug manufacturing concerns, he said he had been president for 10 years of the board of trustees of Ohio Northern University at Ada.

"I first met Joe Shearer in the middle of 1919," he declared.

Called Auerbach "Crook," John R. Bigler and William Hineman, former assistants in Shearer's office at Columbus, and Mrs. Ethel Guerin, another of the office staff now living in Washington, testified they had heard Shearer call Auerbach a "crook."

Mrs. Guerin said Shearer always told the office force that Auerbach was crooked.

Thomas E. Stone of Atlanta, Ga., former prohibition agent in charge of the Maryland-Ohio district, followed Shearer on the stand. He said Fred Counts was a man of honest character and good reputation.

Governor A. V. Donahey, United States Senator S. D. Foss and E. B. Williams, former Governor James M. Cox and James E. Campbell and Robert H. Shriver and Emil Kiesewetter, Columbus bankers, have been subpoenaed as character witnesses for the defendants, counsel for the defense announced.

Governor Donahey said he would appear but he preferred to send his deposition. He was informed that this would not be accepted by the court and was asked to appear tomorrow morning.

the national administration when it is Republican to reward their brethren with offices whenever possible. The late President Harding sent to the Senate the nominations of various colored leaders but the Senate in most cases failed to confirm them due particularly to the long filibusters threatened or executed by Democratic Senators. This however, has not always appeared the political leaders of the colored race who have insisted that colored appointees be increased especially in those places which do not require the confirmation of the Senate.

The dissatisfaction of the colored voters on this point has been growing in the last decade but with the Southern states predominantly Democratic the dissatisfaction of the colored race has not been politically dangerous for the Republicans though there have been efforts to make the colored vote felt in Northern states. In the years since the war the exodus of colored workmen from the South has increased perceptibly the registration of colored voters in Northern states. Since the advent of woman suffrage colored women have been able to doubt the political power of their race in the North. While it is true that discontented colored voters do not as a rule turn to the Democratic ticket they do stay away from the polls upon occasion and this only tends to improve the chances of the Democrats who do get their normal vote to the polls.

Running counter to the aspirations of the colored leaders to political power is the movement in the South among what is known as the "Lily White Republicans," the same being those white voters who believe in the Republican party's principles with the extension of its favoriteness to the colored man. The thought has been expressed again and again by this faction that were it not for the latter fact there would be an opportunity to build up strong Republican organizations in Southern states. C. Bascom Slemp, Private Secretary to President Coolidge, has been most active in "Lily White Republican" movements and voted with the Democrats in the last session of Congress against the Dyer proposal to make lynching a federal crime. When news of the appointment of Mr. Slemp was first announced, there were murmurs of discontent among the colored Republicans and it is believed an attempt is being made to wipe out some of the feeling engendered by the appointment. The fact that Mr. Coolidge himself is receiving constantly the more prominent men and women of the colored race is expected to offset any rumors of a Lily White movement being sanctioned at the White House.

WOOL PLAID SKIRTS, $3.50 to $5.98.

Two Pairs Of Pants With Every Suit

Wool Suits made up in the styles that every boy wants and every suit has two pair of pants and that means something, and is appreciated no less by the parents than by the boys. Ages 6 to 18 years and priced $10 to $15.

BOYS' OVERCOATS, in some nobby styles, at $5 to $15.75.

BOYS' BLACK AND TAN RAINCOATS $5 to $8.

It Will Be A Great Day For Portsmouth Shoppers When Anderson's Economy
Basement Opens

Every day finds our big basement a little nearer completion than the day before. The stairway is rapidly receiving its finishing touches, the painters and electricians are working themselves out of a job and none too quickly for it seems like every train that comes brings merchandise purchased for this department, for it keeps rolling in and rolling in. Extra girls are already tagging the merchandise and arranging it on tables getting it ready for the opening date.

Anderson's Economy Basement will be a store in itself, Where Cash is King and Prices Must Be Less. Watch for opening announcement.

Economy Basement! "Where Cash Is King And Prices Must Be Less"

The Boy Will Need A Sweater Pretty Shortly

With the evenings getting chilly and the mornings getting chillier it's high time the boy boy was reverting to his most popular garment—the sweater. In our Boys' Section we can offer the Slip-over or Coat style at $3.98 to $5.00. The Cadet, a 11 ground Coat Sweater at $5 is a humdinger for wear.

HEAVY WHITE SLIP-OVER SWEATERS, a regular dandy, warm and serviceable sweater at $9.50.

For The Boys Who Wear Wash Suits

It seems as though we have sold enough Wash Suits to clothe every boy in town and still they are buying them. But why not with such pretty styles as these Oliver Twist in Tan, Blue and Grey at $2.25, or with Corduroy Pants at $2.50. Every kid ought to have a few!

TAN AND BROWN CORDUROY SUITS, at $5.00.
BLUE SERGE OLIVER-TWIST SUITS, with White and Black Braid, at $5.00.
BOYS' PANTS, in Serge, Corduroy and Wool at $1.25 to $3.00.

It Takes A Madge Evans Hat To
Make A Girl Look Her BestFeaturing youthful models, the kind that give the finishing youthful touch to the young miss—that is the kind of hats shown in the Madge Evans Line. That hat that proper tilt of the brim or a little perkiness here, or a peculiar twist there, just enough style and character to make them the most admired and desirable of all children's hat lines.

Scores are now in display in the advance autumn models priced at $2.98 to $7.50. Great line of Felt Sport Hats at $3.50.

Every Reason Why Your Boy's Apparel Should Come From Anderson's.

Our Boys' Clothing and Furnishings Department does not play a second fiddle to any other department in the store. Too often boys' clothes are carried in Men's clothing stores and are considered by too many merchants as a necessary nuisance, to be slighted whenever possible and given particular attention only when they have to. At Anderson's it is a special shop and accordingly.

KAYNEE BLOUSES, for boys, in guaranteed fast colors, with stripes or plain shades at $1.00. A new selection of Woven Madras Blouses at $1.50.

NEW KNIT TIES, for the boys, and bow ties just like your dad's, at 50c.

HADN'T THE PEP TO GET UP

Nerv-Worth, Soon Restored Vigor. "I woke up in the morning so tired and listless that I hardly had enough pep to get on my feet. I have used Nerv-Worth only two weeks, and I am and couldn't sleep at night. I would greatly improved."

Charges Made That Witnesses Tamed With

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., September 20—The charge of tampering with witnesses was made today by attorneys for the defense in the trial of Walter S. Ward, wealthy baker's son, charged with the murder of Clara Peters, after a conference with the prosecution held at a conference with a representative of the Attorney General.

Defense Counsel Campbell made the charge after Ralph Collins, former state trooper, testified he had had lunch with State Trooper Green, a previous witness for the prosecution.

Collins refused to deny he had been told by Henry Unterwieser, special investigator for the Attorney General's department, to get his testimony "straight."

A motion by the defense to strike Collins' testimony from the record

Huge Dirigible To Fly Across Atlantic

WASHINGTON, September 20—The ZR-3, the German built sister ship to the Navy airship ZR-1, is expected to leave Friedrichshafen early in November for her transatlantic voyage to her future home at Lakehurst, N. J. A station ship will be placed in mid-ocean to direct the big craft and the weather bureau, shipping board and other government agencies are preparing to co-operate in furnishing the latest meteorological data.

The planned route is across Southern France, thence to the Azores to the Southern tip of Bermuda and north to destination. The route covers 4,500 nautical miles.

The flight is to be made "without intermediate stop," according to the present program.

A comparison of the two ships shows the German dirigible to be about 20 feet shorter than her American consort, measuring 300 feet in length but she has a capacity of 2,500,000 cubic feet against 2,100,000 for the ZR-1. The latter is 79 feet in diameter as compared with 90.7 feet for the ZR-3.

The chief divergence in equipment is in the motive power, the American ship carrying six special Packard aerial engines capable of driving her at 60 miles an hour for 50 hours. The ZR-3 has five Maybach engines of 400-horsepower each and is designed for a speed of 60 miles an hour. At her average "gait," the ZR-3 is expected to take 140 hours for the homeward trip.

On the initial trip the ZR-3 will be inflated with hydrogen gas, but helium will be used after she has been taken over by the United States government.

An Aid to Wearing This Season's Fashions

(Helps to Beauty)

Here is a simple, unfeeling way to rid the skin of objectionable hairs. With some powdered delatone and water make enough paste to cover the hairy surface. Apply and in about 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and every trace of hair has vanished.

There is a liquid delatone that needs no mixing. Just apply with the finger and leave on for about 3 minutes. Wash off and notice how clean and smooth it is where the hair was formerly. The liquid delatone is more easily used than the powdered and has no odor, yet they both produce results desired. Ask for either article in the original package and accept no substitutes—advertisement.

Adventurers, Broke, Must Go To Work Or Starve

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 20—The 39 arms twice for alleged debts, and their ship's surgeon has been stricken with malaria fever.

Their bank roll admittedly is short and fears were expressed that their supply of food would be exhausted today.

Many of the men aboard the ship are World War heroes and they have never worked as longshoremen, but they are said to consider the liquor law and libeled by commercial work as a probability.

Anniversary Is Celebrated

OAK HILL, September 20—Mrs. Matilda Crabtree was agreeably surprised Sunday, September 18, when a number of her children and other relatives walked into her home on Jefferson pike, unannounced, to help celebrate the 33rd anniversary of her birth. They met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Leonard and went from there to the home of Mrs. Crabtree. All were laden with well-filled baskets and at noon a sumptuous dinner was spread, to which all did ample justice.

The afternoon was spent socially, until 2 o'clock, when a prayer meeting was held. The time was well spent and the day greatly enjoyed by all. Mrs. Crabtree received many useful gifts. There were present seven children, twenty-six grandchildren and seventeen great-grandchildren, as follows: Mrs. Matilda Crabtree, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Crabtree and children, Miss Nancy and Charles, of South Webster; John Crabtree, of Monroe; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Crabtree and nephew, Carl Keller of Monroe; Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Leonard and children, Miss Edna, John Will and Robert of Oak Hill, Route 2; Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Crabtree and children, Opal, Herbert, Margaret, Paul, Harold and Ruby Fern of Oak Hill, Route 2; Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Crabtree and children, Laura, Florence, Gilbert, Mrs. Chester Norman and Ray of Oak Hill, Route 2; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nance and children, Robert, Mildred and Alberta of Portsmouth; of Wheelwright, Ky.; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Miller and children, Edna, Martha Hazel, Marie, Dorothy and Charles of South Webster; Mr. and Mrs. George Carpenter and children; Mildred and Alberta to Portsmouth; John Snyder and children, Maude, Mildred and Myrtle of Oak Hill, Route 2; Mrs. Arthur Clark and daughter, Violet of Oak Hill, Route 2; Mrs. Estella Boggs Cusick and children, Marie, Margaret, Wanda Fern and Wayne of Oak Hill, Route 2; Mr. and Mrs. Amos Crabtree of Route 2; Mrs. Hannah Thompson of Guernsey County; Mrs. Jane Crabtree of Oak Hill.

Guests during the afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Davis and children, Harry, Ruth, Glen and Jennie Louise, Misses Iva Leonard, Gladys and Estaline, Reese, Thurman Spriggs, Dave Williams and Joe Jaynes.

Injured In Auto Accident; Dies

James (Doc) Williams, aged 33, colored, who was injured in an automobile accident just this side of Chillicothe on Tuesday, September 4, passed away Tuesday at his home, 1017 Thirteenth street. He suffered a broken back when the machine left the road and turned over twice. Six other negroes in the car were injured but not seriously. The machine was driven by Tommy Macey of this city, who was also injured and spent several hours in the City Hospital in Chillicothe.

Williams is survived by his wife, Georgia, and a daughter, Hazel, aged 1 year. He is also survived by his father, John Williams, of Little Mountain, S. C., and two brothers, Roy and Jule Williams of this city. Williams had been a resident of this city for 15 years and was employed in the N. & W. shops, East Portsmouth.

Funeral services were conducted from the home at 2 p. m. Wednesday and were in charge of Rev. B. L. Reed. The body will be shipped to Little Mountain for interment.

Try A "Buddy Brooks Shave" NO RAZOR!

You shaved this morning? What will you do about going out to call, or to the theatre, this evening? It isn't necessary at all if you have a can of "Buddy Brooks." Just sprinkle a little "Buddy Brooks" into your face, rub it on to your face, and see how fresh you look and feel. And you will look the same all evening too.

Lots Better Than Tale

For "Buddy Brooks" is entirely different from ordinary "alum." It isn't "stiff" and "spiky" like talc. Neither is it "sticky" and "heavy" like the women's face powder. But it is just right for a man's use. And it is also highly healing and soothing. Any little cut or skin irritation heals right up when you use "Buddy Brooks."

It's just made for you. Just ask any druggist for a can of "Buddy Brooks." But if you have any trouble in securing it, PLEASE send your name and address to "Buddy Brooks," Inc., Marshall, Mich. The price is 50 cents for a large can. A little more expensive than talc, yet not so much as a face powder. Send the coupon for a trial size of "Buddy Brooks" and try the NEW KIND of toilet powder.

TRIAL COUPON

BUDDY BROOKS, Inc., Dept. 48, Marshall, Mich. Please send me your "trial size" of "BUDDY BROOKS." I enclose ten cents for packing and postage. Name _____ Address _____ City _____ State _____

Four True Bills

JACKSON, Sept. 20—The grand jury for the September term of common pleas court made its report after having been in session parts of two days. Six cases were investigated there being twenty-two witnesses examined. Four true bills were found while two cases were ignored.

The jury made examination of the public buildings and found them in good condition and well kept. A recommendation was made for the improvement of the plumbing at the county jail.

FALL FASHIONS

Announcing a Style Show of Fashionable Apparel for Full-Formed Women

ALL women of large figure are invited to attend this important event. A formal showing of Authentic Autumn modes will be displayed by LIVING STOUT MODELS FROM NEW YORK

in a

FASHION PROMENADE

The showing will include our own Stout line for Fall as well as many special garments sent here expressly for this occasion consisting of Coats, Dresses and Suits.

To-day the larger woman may clothe herself with apparel styled just as smartly as that worn by the smaller woman and scientifically cut, designed and fitted with special attention given to comfort, style and slenderizing lines.

All models to be shown have that dainty touch of youthfulness that takes many pounds from the apparent weight of the wearer and years from her age.

THE ADVICE OF EXPERTS FREE TO ALL

After the exhibit the New York Fashion Experts will be pleased to confer with any women desiring their services in the selection of garments most becoming to them.

Tomorrow (Friday) 10 to 11 A. M. and 2 to 3 P. M.
Also Saturday at 10 to 11 A. M.

FRANCE AND BELGIUM TO REJECT GERMANY'S NEW PEACE OFFER

BERLIN, Sept. 20.—(By the United Press.)—Rejection of secret German proposals of cessation of passive resistance in the Ruhr made through the Belgian minister, was indicated in an interview with the minister today. Belgium and France insist on complete abolition of passive resistance before entering into any negotiations with Germany. They are not willing to accept any proposition for the return of German citizens from occupied zone or the pardon of all of the Germans arrested, especially since some of them have been charged with murder.

Stresemann must cancel passive resistance openly and frankly, the minister asserted, otherwise France and Belgium do not intend to have any negotiations for settlement. The minister said he realized that Stresemann was going further to reach an agreement than the Cuno government ever did. The minister said he appreciated the difficulty with which the chancellor was confronted, in the form of the internal situation, especially the open and organized hostility of the monarchists, France and Belgium prepared to take the German internal situation into consideration, but the minister said a full and frank public declaration of the cabinet's decision to cease resistance must be made first. It is the unalterable pre-requisite.

In conclusion the minister said he did not expect any quick settlement of the Ruhr question.

LONDON, Sept. 20.—(By the United Press.)—The Central News

Berlin correspondent wired that the German government has issued a lengthy semi-official announcement declaring that it is ready to conduct negotiations on condition that all persons imprisoned by the French are released and those expelled from occupied territory be permitted to return. This communication is interpreted as preparing the country for the end of passive resistance.

Little More Pep, You P. H. S. Gridders

P. H. S. has the players, sufficient weight and speed for a real football team this season but there is one thing lacking in the practice sessions and that is pep and snap which are needed to mold a successful eleven. This true, the weather is still a little warm for real peppy workouts but at that the candidates should show more life than has been displayed the last few nights.

Many candidates are out and the majority of them are making a fine showing, but when it comes to pep and snap these two elements are lacking. Among the candidates are several speed artists who can cover the ground but the speed that is needed is in the starting of every play. The teams are going through signal practice, falling on the ball, tackling the dummy, and tackling running players and are making it up.

Practice is in this last form of scrimmage, but the lack of pep shows. The teams have many new plays but they seem to be started slow and such a condition cannot exist with a fighting aggressive eleven as the opposition.

With the opening game with Huntington only a little over a week away the Red and Blue lads will have to "pep" up in a hurry to be in tip-top shape for the up-river gridders who open the season Saturday with Huntington high.

Observe Day Of Atonement

The Day of Atonement (Yom Kippur) was impressively observed in the Jewish Temple last night and Thursday and the services were largely attended.

Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement, is the most ancient fast day observed by the Jewish Church. It is the only such day commanded by the Mosaic laws, and has been observed since the beginning of the religion from the evening of the 9th to the evening of the 10th day of the church month of T'sri.

It is the Jewish day of national humiliation, coming five days before the feast of the tabernacles. During the 24 hours ending tonight at 7:30 o'clock, no meat, drink or pleasures may be indulged in by orthodox Jews.

During this time services will be conducted almost continuously. Special services were conducted this morning at 9:30 o'clock, and during the morning, with another special service at eleven o'clock, the observance ending tonight after another service at four o'clock.

Firpo Satisfied With Decision; Asks New Match

NEW YORK, September 20.—(By the A. P.)—The decision of the referee is sufficient for Luis Angel Firpo, and despite the protests of his friends and many spectators of his fight with Jack Dempsey, that he was unfairly treated and fouled, he asks nothing more than "another match" with the world's champion.

The true sportsmanship of the Argentine fighter is shown in a statement given him to the Associated Press, in which he first defends his chief second, Horatio LaValle, indirectly accused of incompetency by William Muldoon, chairman of the State Boxing Commission, and ends by simply asking another battle with his conqueror when he has rested and his arm has healed.

Dempsey was declared by thousands of spectators not only to have struck Firpo viciously after the call of time and to have disregarded the referee's instructions as to retreating to a neutral corner during a knockdown count, but to have technically lost the fight on a foul when he was assisted back to the ring by reporters, after having been knocked through the ropes by Firpo in the first round. Referee Gallagher also is declared to have neglected starting a count until Dempsey had been returned to the ring.

Chairman Muldoon said after the fight that had Firpo's seconds claimed a foul when Dempsey was pushed back into the ring, the State Boxing Commission would have recognized the claim and declared Firpo the winner. No such claim was made at the time.

Firpo has been urged by his South American admirers and many others to protest against the decision of Referee Gallagher.

"Hands Off" Reparations Now, League Decides

GENEVA, September 20.—(By the A. P.)—"Hands off" the reparations problem, for the moment, at least, was the decision reached today by one of the main commissions of the League of Nations. This decision, it is believed, will affect the entire attitude of the league assembly on this problem. It was not reached without some murmurs.

The reparations issue arose before the commission on technical organization when Sir Henry Strachey, the financial expert representing South Africa alluded to the statement at the opening of this year's assembly to the effect that the league was confronted with difficulties owing to the absence of a settlement of the questions of reparations and inter-allied debts. But after consulting his French and Belgian colleagues, Sir Henry said, he was convinced of the advisability of not starting a debate on this delicate subject, which might aggravate the situation and hinder eventual settlement.

The reparations issue arose before the commission on technical organization when Sir Henry Strachey, the financial expert representing South Africa alluded to the statement at the opening of this year's assembly to the effect that the league was confronted with difficulties owing to the absence of a settlement of the questions of reparations and inter-allied debts. But after consulting his French and Belgian colleagues, Sir Henry said, he was convinced of the advisability of not starting a debate on this delicate subject, which might aggravate the situation and hinder eventual settlement.

A second important feature of today's league activities was the adoption of a resolution interpreting article 10 of the covenant. The commission adopted a new compromise formula replacing the Canadian amendment. It begins by emphasizing the precision of meaning of article 10 and recommends that the assembly adopt several clauses in the form of a resolution.

The first clause is that in case the council of the league deems it necessary to recommend the application of military measures in case of an aggression or a menace of aggression, the council will take into account the geographical situation and special conditions surrounding each state. The second clause declares that it is the right of the constitutional powers of each member state to decide the nature and the extent of its obligations to maintain the independence and integrity of territory of members and to what extent it should furnish military assistance.

This interpretive resolution now goes to the assembly. It is generally regarded as removing many of the existing fears that article 10 would force states too far into possible military adventures abroad without the sanction of the home parliaments.

Apple Float
Left-over apple sauce can be made into dessert for the children's supper. To each cup add the well-beaten white of one egg. Then whip sauce and egg together and chill.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Harriet Cal Knight
Following a two years' illness with tuberculosis, death relieved the suffering of Mrs. Harriet Cal Knight, when she passed peacefully to the Great Beyond on Wednesday, September 19th, at her home, West Geopart's Station. She was born in Scitoville county December 31, 1855, and was 68 years, 8 months and 10 days old.

Mrs. Knight was a kind and loving wife and devoted mother, and she leaves to mourn her loss her children: Mrs. W. F. Knight; and the following children: Herrelie, at home; Percy and Mrs. Henry Colegrove, of Scitoville; Clay and William Knight of Scitoville. Another daughter, Edith, died a number of years ago. Mrs. Knight also leaves seven devoted grand-children. The funeral services will be held Friday afternoon, two o'clock, at the Marting Chapel, with Rev. Sheppard officiating. Interment will be in Vernon cemetery.

Ruth Anna Pennington
Friends here will be sorry to learn of the loss of Miss Ruth Anna Pennington, daughter of Alphonse Pennington, who died at the home of her sister, Mrs. E. L. Gallion, at Russell, Ky., September 15, 1923, after many months of illness.

Miss Pennington was born on Floods Creek, Boyd Co., Ky., July 1, 1905, and spent most of her life in Boyd Co. She was a very lovely girl, and had many friends here, as she often visited here, and spent the winter here last year with her brother, R. D. Pennington, of Thomas avenue. She was sick most of the winter and in May went to visit her sister, Mrs. Gallion, where she steadily grew weaker until the end came. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Pennington, and brother Charles, of Vero Florida, sister, Mrs. E. L. Gallion, Russell, Ky., and brothers, James Pennington, of Ashland, Ky., and R. D. Pennington, of Thomas avenue, Portsmouth, survive. Her parents and brother Charles came from Vero Fla., several weeks before her death.

Lena Mae Garrison
R. D. Pennington, of Thomas avenue, received word yesterday of the death of his niece, Lena Mae Garrison, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Gallion, at Russell, Ky., after a five weeks' illness of typhoid pneumonia.

Lena Mae was ten years of age and leaves her parents and one sister, Ruth aged 7, to mourn her loss.

Madison K. Davis
After a lingering illness of several years death came to relieve the suffering of Madison K. Davis who died Wednesday afternoon 1:25, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Charles Bodmer, 2192 9th street. Death was due to complications.

He was born in Brown Co., O. Sept. 25, 1853, had been lived until Tuesday, Sept. 19, 1923.

Oil Group Dominates Trading On Curb

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Trading on the Curb Exchange, today continued dominated by the concentration of interest in the petroleum situation. Pacific Gas and Oil announced an abandonment of its pro-rating plan, and Nagolia Oil made another cut in crude oil following a reduction an-

Standard Oil issues confined in demand, some making fair advances including Standard Oil of Indiana. Some of these issues including those in which transactions are usually in small lots, were in supply at times at declines. The independent oil stocks were also well-held in spite of the reductions announced and one Standard oil issue, Vacuum, made a substantial change.

Hoover Forms Reorganization

Of Railroad Freight Rates

WASHINGTON, September 20.—General reorganization of the entire railroad freight rate structure is favored by Secretary Hoover. Commenting on the plans of President Coolidge to aid agricultural interests, Mr. Hoover said that freight rates on agricultural products should be lowered as a complement to the general reconstruction of all rates, but he added that the problem was delicate and involved and must be studied carefully by the interstate commerce commission.

Compared to class rates, commodity rates are too high, Secretary Hoover said, but he suggested that some of the western granger roads might not be able to survive a cut in agricultural commodity rates and emphasized he did not believe it desirable to reduce rates unless the entire rate structure was revised.

The secretary also gave his approval to the railroad consolidation plan. By consolidation, he said, rates could be adjusted more easily than now.

Hydrant Bids Rejected

Bids were opened at the office of the Service Director today for furnishing the city with from 60 to 100 fire hydrants. The bidders were the Ludlow Valve Manufacturing Company, Pittsburgh, and the Darling Valve Manufacturing Company, Wilkes-Barre, Pa., and when a canvass disclosed that the bids of the two concerns were identical, the Board of Control promptly rejected both.

Bungalow Fire Department Latest

Safety Director St. Strau and members of the fire committee from the city council will go to Huntington, Sunday to inspect the new bungalow fire department there. Where fire companies are established in residential sections regular bungalows are used instead of fire buildings and this plan may be used in the new department soon to be established in Sciotoville.

Reds Drop First Game

Pennant aspirations of the Redlegs on the mound, they lost the first of received a setback this afternoon, when, with the incomparable League,

Real Western Drama At Columbia

One of those rare comedies—clean and wholesome—entitled "Ruggles of Red Gap" is being shown at the Columbia theater this week. A western story without the display of a single gun, with Ernest Torrence and Louise Dresser taking the leading parts, "Ruggles of Red Gap" gives you not only a thousand thrills, but a million laughs. In fact, it is one of those comedies that causes the ripples to start and emerge in genuine live-hearted laughter before the play is five minutes old.

"Ruggles of Red Gap" is the premier comedy of the screen. It is not of the slap-stick brand—just wholesome fun, built around the life of Ranch Owner Ruggles, as portrayed by Ernest Torrence, whom many believe to be the greatest character actor in the country.

NOTICE TO HUNTERS

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., Sept. 20.—(By The Associated Press)—Two railroad workers were killed and nine passengers were injured at Whitman Junction today when eight coal cars crashed into a Chesapeake and Ohio passenger train. The dead are: J. C. Leake, of Holden, W. Va., engineer, and F. E. Ferris, of Peach Creek, W. Va., fireman.

Two Games To-Morrow

PITTSBURGH, September 20.—New York-Pittsburgh game postponed. Double-header to-morrow.

Oscar Scherer Seriously Ill

Oscar Scherer, of Chicago, is critically ill at the home of his sister, Mrs. William Hartledge, Locust Wood, Sciotoville.

New Road Opened

The new highway of 1.6 miles in length between Chesapeake and Proctorville has been "thrown open" to traffic. Contractor Jenkins having completed his work on the road. The barge, however, has not entirely been completed, workmen being engaged on this work now and the public is cautioned to drive carefully over this road to avoid accidents.—Irononian.

Overhauling Boat

The W. K. Fields is now lying at Cincinnati for complete overhauling. She is one of the oldest boats on the river, and was built in 1869, and was formerly the Ironsides. Owing to the fact that it was kept in good repair, it still tows barges for the Island Creek Coal company.

OBITUARY

A Fall Fashion Exposition, Fall Style Week will be observed by Portsmouth merchants September 26-29. They are busy unpacking and getting ready to display large quantities of new stocks will be put on display and sale the first time next week in addition to what they already are offering for sale. All the merchants will observe the week and plans are being made to have one big style show to be held in one or two of the big picture theatres. Details for the observance of the week are being planned on an elaborate scale. Several of the larger stores will stage style shows of their own and will use live models to display the latest word in fall modes of dresses, cloaks, furs and other articles requisite of a lady's wardrobe.

C. &amp; O. To Spend Over $2,000,000 In Ashland

Announcement was made at Ashland, Ky., last night before the City Council that the C. & O. had already prepared plans for the expenditure of $2,000,000 in improvements to yards and buildings there. The new station is to cost about $400,000. A section of Tenth street, that city, is to be closed to give the space needed for the new depot. The present freight station is also to be greatly enlarged and considerable new trackage put down.

Collapsed During Parade

A. A. Hanson, well known West End grocer of this city, was one of a number of marchers in the Big Old Fellows' parade in Cincinnati who collapsed from fatigue yesterday. Mr. Hanson collapsed while in the parade and he was hurried to relief headquarters where he was treated. He recovered quickly and left the relief station shortly after being treated.

Will Make Talk To Local Students

Tomorrow at the chapel exercises in the Portsmouth High School, Attorney Mark A. Crawford will give a talk on the "Constitution," as a part of the program being carried out in celebration of "Constitution Week." Mr. Crawford delivered this address at the New's Bible Class of Trinity Church last Sunday, and he was invited to repeat it before the student body of the High School.

Police News

In Municipal Court Thursday John Kumski was passed a fine of $10 and costs for drunkenness and disorderly conduct, and Charles E. Price, J. Campbell and James Davis, picked up last night by the police for intoxication, forfeited their bond by failing to appear.

Jerry Conn, Earlytown man, arrested for pointing fire-arm at Cecil Jandamood, denied guilt, and the complaint was dismissed by the court after hearing the stories of the two men. Police said that Conn "ditched" a black-jack just before he was arrested and he may be required to answer to a charge of totting the weapon.

Bicycle Stolen

A Prescription For High Blood Pressure

Used By Buffalo Physician For Many Years With Great Success

Since the beginning of the year druggists of the better class have been selling a vegetable preparation called NORMA, a very successful remedy for reducing high blood pressure to normal. People who have no appetite, are moody and nervous, have headaches, but flashes and dizzy spells, probably have high blood pressure and don't realize it. NORMA is not a cure-all, but it does reduce high blood pressure, and for that purpose it is one of the best. The changing time of life. Fisher & Stretch or any high class druggists will supply you with NORMA. Advertisement.

"Relaxo" Dress

"The Dress Without A Fault"

The RELAXO DRESS is the only dress that instantly adjusts itself to the figure and is absolutely guaranteed to fit any woman.

Buy the correct bust measure and it will fit perfectly without any alterations. BEFORE WASHING THIS DRESS unbutton the two loops at either end, slip the elastic out. After laundering, replace the elastic and it will again fit perfectly. Nothing to rust or spoil in washing.

Six Special Features of the "RELAXO" Dress. There is a shield under each arm which gives extra strength where a dress always wears first.

There is an opening on the cuff to enable the sleeve to be rolled up.

There is a three inch hem on every RELAXO dress.

There is a piece of the dress material attached to the last button of the placket to be used for patching if needed.

There is a large plait over each shoulder which insures plenty of fullness through the bust.

There is no chance of ripping, the dress while doing any kind of housework as the elastic will allow for this expansion and immediately relax into its proper position.

THE ISLE OF RETRIBUTION

EDISON MARSHALL

BY EDISON MARSHALL

BEGIN HERE TO-DAY

Ned Cornet, who is engaged to marry Lenore Hardenworth, is shipwrecked with her and they take refuge on an island. With them is Bess, a girl, a seaman. The island is occupied by a brute named Doodson and his Indian wife.

The master of the island takes Ned and the girls prisoners and bids them build a cabin for themselves. He gives them an old store of food, but they are not allowed to remain with the squaw help with the housework; but Ned and Bess are made to labor until they both fall unconscious.

When the cabin is completed Doodson announces that he means to have his slaves do his winter trapping for him. Bess and Ned are started on different routes. Ned has a fight with a bear.

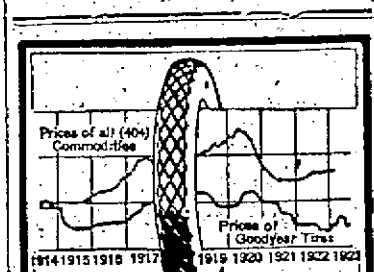

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
Ned did not wait to catch the full force of that blow. His powerful thighs, made iron hard by his long and bitter struggle, drove him out and up the steep, rocky slope. His long hair seemed to meet that of the wolf full in the air. Then they rolled together into the drifts.

The wolf, wriggled free, sending home one vicious bite into the flesh just under the arm; and for a breath both contestants seemed to be playing some weird, pinwheel game in the snow. The silence of the everlasting wild was torn to shreds by the noise of battle—the frantic snarling of the wolf, the wild shouts of this madman who had just found his strength. Then for a moment both contestants seemed to lie motionless in the snow. The wolf lay like a great hound before the fireside—fore legs stretched in front, body at full length. Ned lay at one side, the animal's head between his knees, one arm around his neck, the other thrusting back the great head. The whole issue of life or death, victory or defeat, was suddenly immensely simplified. It depended solely on whether or not Ned had the physical might to push back the shaggy head and shatter the vertebrae.

Time stood still. A thousand half-crazed fancies flew through Ned's mind. His life blood seemed to be starting from his pores, and his heart was tearing itself to shreds in his breast. But the wolf was quivering now. Its eyes were full of strange, unwild fire. And then Ned gave a last, terrific wrench.

A bone broke with a distinct crack in the utter silence. And as he fell forward, spent, the great white form slacked down and went limp in his arms.

XXIII.
IN A little while Ned stripped the pelt from the warm body of the wolf and continued down his line of traps. He was able to think more coherently now and consider methods and details. And by the same token of clear thought, he was brought face to face with the fact of the almost insuperable obstacles in his path.

Plans for freedom first of all seemed to have to include Doodson's death. That was the first essential, and the last. Could they succeed in striking the life from their master, they could wait in the cabin until the traitor Intrepid should touch their island in the spring.

The difficulty lay in finding an opening of attack. Doodson's rifle was never loaded except when it was in his arms, and he wore his pistol in his belt, day and night. For all his hopelessness, Ned had noticed, half inadvertently, that he always took precautions against a night attack. The squaw slept on the outside of their cot, and would be no difficulty to pass without arousing as a sleeping dog. The cabin itself was bolted, not to be entered without waking both occupants; and the three prisoners of course slept in the narrow berth.

Ned was working that part of the line from his Twelve-Mile cabin over the ridge toward the Forks cabin. His old rendezvous with Bess. He was somewhat late in crossing the range to-day. The blazed trail took him around the shoulder of the ridge, clear to the edge of a little, deeply-seamed glacier such as crowns so many of the larger hills in the far North.

Few were the wild creatures that traversed this icy desolation, so his trap line had been laid out around the glacier, following the blazed trail in the south timber. But to-day the long way round was particularly treacherous to his spirit. More than a mile could be saved by leaving the timber and climbing across the ice, and only a few sets, none of which had ever proved, especially productive. He would be missed.

Without an instant's hesitation he turned from the trail straight over the snowy summit toward the cabin. The cut-off would save him the annoyance of making camp after dark. And since he had climbed it once before, he was fairly well acquainted with the need of extra care.

The crossing, however, was not quite the same as on the previous occasion. Before the ice had been covered, completely across, with a heavy snowfall, no harder to walk on than the open barrens. He was soon now at the summit, and he was fairly well acquainted with the need of extra care.

Below him stretched a half-mile of glare ice, ivory white like the fangs of some fabulous beast of prey, fierce and there it was, the great glacier, crevassed and jagged, and the snow fields which a stone falls in silence. For a moment Ned regarded it with considerable displeasure.

He decided to take a chance. He removed his snowshoes and ventured carefully out upon the ice. It was as slippery as ice. He was gaining confidence, he walked at a faster pace. The slope was not much on this side, the glacier ending in an abrupt cliff many hundred feet in height, so he felt little need of special precaution. It was, in fact, the easiest walking that he had since his arrival upon the island, so he decided not to turn off clear until he reached the high ground just to one side of the ice cliff. He crawled down a series of shelves, picked his way along a jagged promontory, and fetched up at last at the edge of a dark crevice scarcely 50 feet from the edge of the snow.

The crevice was not much over five feet wide at this point, and looking along, he saw that a hundred yards to his right it ended in a snowbank. But there was no need of following it down. He could leap it at a standing jump; with a running start he could bound ten feet beyond. He was tired, eager to get to camp—and this was the zero hour. He drew back three paces, preparatory to making the leap.

At the wilderness world seemed to be straining—listening. The man leaped forward.

At that instant the North gave him some sign of its power. His first running step was firm, but at the second his momentum failed to hold, slipping straight back. He pitched forward on his hands and knees, grasping at the hard, slippery ice.

He slid rapidly slowly, with that stekening helplessness that so often characterizes the events of a truck dream; and the wilderness seemed still to be waiting, watching, in unutterable indifference. Then he pitched forward into the crevice.

He was not to die at once. There was still hope of life. He fetched up, as if by a miracle, on an icy shelf ten feet below the mouth of the crevice—with sheer walls rising on each side.

HIS LONG BODY SEEMED TO MELT IN THE AIR.

XXIV.
NED knew what fear was, well enough, as he lay in the darkness, shivering at the white line of the crevice above him. The shelf on which he had fallen was scarcely wider than his body, and only because it projected at an upward incline from the sheer wall had he come to rest upon it. It was perhaps 20 feet long, practically on a level at the way. The wall was sheer for ten feet above him; beyond the shelf was only the impenetrable darkness of the crevice, extending apparently into the bowels of the earth. Very cautiously, in imminent danger of pitching backward into the abyss, he climbed to his feet. He was a tall man, but his hands, reaching up, did not come within two feet of the ledge. And there was nothing whatever for his hands to cling to.

If only there were irregularities in the ice. With a surge of hope he thought of his axe.

This tool, however, had either fallen into the crevice or had dropped from his shoulder and lay on the ice above. But there remained his clasp knife. He drew it carefully from his pocket.

Already he felt the icy chill of the glacier stealing through him, the cold fingers of death itself. He must lose time in going to work. He began to cut, two feet above the ledge, a sharp-edged hole in the ice.

He finished the cut at last, then started on another a foot above. He heaved out a foothold with great care. He did not forget that the hand-holds to which his fingers were clinging were yet to be made. They had to be finished with even greater skill than the footholds. Very wisely, he turned to them next.

He made the first of them as high as he could reach. Then he put one in about a foot below. Three more footholds were cut in at about 12-inch intervals between.

Placing the knife between his teeth, he put his foot on the first foothold and pulled himself up. It did not take long, however, to convince him that the remaining work would proceed patiently on the ice. These holes in the ice were not like irregularities in stone. The fingers slipped over them; it was almost impossible to cling on with both hands, much less one. But clinging with all his might, he tried to free his right hand to procure his knife.

He made it at last, and with a frightful cost of nervous energy succeeded in cutting some sort of a gash in the icy wall above his head. Standing so close he could not look up; it was impossible to do more than look out a ragged hole. And because his right hand was now free, he put his right hand once more between his teeth, reached his right hand into the hole, and tried to pull himself up again.

But disaster, bitter and complete, followed that attempt. His numbing hands failed to hold under the strain, and he slipped all the way back to his shelf. Something rang sharply against the ice wall far below him.

Player drives his ball into casual water in a hazard, which is a dry ditch except in wet weather. From the tee the ball could be seen to splash in the water. The grade and the current carried the ball from its position in the hazard to casual water in the green. Should the ball be returned to the hazard where it first struck, or has the player the right to lift it from the position in which it was found and drop it without penalty?

In the case cited, the "breaks" of the game favored the player who had driven his ball into a hazard, which was a dry ditch but filled with water because of a recent heavy rain. When the player came upon his ball and found it in casual water through the green, it having been carried to such a position by the flow of water from the hazard, the player had the right to lift his ball and drop it without penalty.

In what year was the American open and amateur championships established?

These two events which bring together the cream of the amateur and professional golf talent in the United States and offer from foreign shores was established in 1895, practically 30 years ago.

What player put Bobby Jones out of the national amateur event last year?

In the semi-final round, Jesse Sweetser ultimately won the championship, beat Jones 8 and 7, despite the fact that Jones played practically par golf.

If only there were irregularities in the ice. With a surge of hope he thought of his axe.

This tool, however, had either fallen into the crevice or had dropped from his shoulder and lay on the ice above. But there remained his clasp knife. He drew it carefully from his pocket.

Already he felt the icy chill of the glacier stealing through him, the cold fingers of death itself. He must lose time in going to work. He began to cut, two feet above the ledge, a sharp-edged hole in the ice.

He finished the cut at last, then started on another a foot above. He heaved out a foothold with great care. He did not forget that the hand-holds to which his fingers were clinging were yet to be made. They had to be finished with even greater skill than the footholds. Very wisely, he turned to them next.

He made the first of them as high as he could reach. Then he put one in about a foot below. Three more footholds were cut in at about 12-inch intervals between.

Placing the knife between his teeth, he put his foot on the first foothold and pulled himself up. It did not take long, however, to convince him that the remaining work would proceed patiently on the ice. These holes in the ice were not like irregularities in stone. The fingers slipped over them; it was almost impossible to cling on with both hands, much less one. But clinging with all his might, he tried to free his right hand to procure his knife.

He made it at last, and with a frightful cost of nervous energy succeeded in cutting some sort of a gash in the icy wall above his head. Standing so close he could not look up; it was impossible to do more than look out a ragged hole. And because his right hand was now free, he put his right hand once more between his teeth, reached his right hand into the hole, and tried to pull himself up again.

But disaster, bitter and complete, followed that attempt. His numbing hands failed to hold under the strain, and he slipped all the way back to his shelf. Something rang sharply against the ice wall far below him.

Player drives his ball into casual water in a hazard, which is a dry ditch except in wet weather. From the tee the ball could be seen to splash in the water. The grade and the current carried the ball from its position in the hazard to casual water in the green. Should the ball be returned to the hazard where it first struck, or has the player the right to lift it from the position in which it was found and drop it without penalty?

In the case cited, the "breaks" of the game favored the player who had driven his ball into a hazard, which was a dry ditch but filled with water because of a recent heavy rain. When the player came upon his ball and found it in casual water through the green, it having been carried to such a position by the flow of water from the hazard, the player had the right to lift his ball and drop it without penalty.

In what year was the American open and amateur championships established?

These two events which bring together the cream of the amateur and professional golf talent in the United States and offer from foreign shores was established in 1895, practically 30 years ago.

What player put Bobby Jones out of the national amateur event last year?

In the semi-final round, Jesse Sweetser ultimately won the championship, beat Jones 8 and 7, despite the fact that Jones played practically par golf.

REDS TURN BACK PHILS IN TWO GAMES, PIRATES LOSE; GIANTS IDLE

CINCINNATI, Sept. 20.—Cincinnati strengthened its hold on second place yesterday by winning both games of a double header from Philadelphia, 1 to 0 and 6 to 5. The first game was a brilliant pitching duel between Rixey and Betts, each of whom allowed only five singles.

In the second game, Donohue was hit hard in two innings, but won the game by his own long hitting, driving in three runs in the fourth with a three base hit and the winning tally in the eighth with a double. Score—First Game:

First Inning
How the game was played:
Saul drove deep to Burns. Williams fanned. Lee singled to center. Tierney bounced to Caveney. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Burns shot the first pitch over third, a single. Daubert forced Burns, Metz to third. Betts threw wild to first, faking second. Kimmick lined into a double play, Sand to Metz. No runs, one hit, one error.

Second Inning
Metz skied to Roush. Henline bounced to Caveney. Moken soared to Burns. No runs, no hits, no errors. Roush bounced to Betts. Duncanson fared to Moken. Duncanson stole second. Pinelli fouled to Holke. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Third Inning
Holke rolled to Daubert. Betts lifted to Duncanson. Sand crossed the breeze. No runs, no hits, no errors. Caveney singled to center. Rixey forced Caveney. Sand to Metz. Burns went a slow roller to third. Daubert forced Burns, Sand to Metz. Kimmick fanned. No runs, two hits, no errors.

Fourth Inning
Williams fanned. Lee rolled to Caveney. Burns singled to Tierney. Roush went a slow roller to second. Duncanson singled to left. Roush taking third. Hargrave's fly to Lee scored Roush, while Duncanson was headed off, Lee to Holke to Metz. Pinelli soared to Williams. One run, two hits, no errors.

Fifth Inning
Metz walked. Henline popped to Kimmick. Moken ascended to Burns. Holke made a freak hit. It bounded off the hands of both Rixey and Kimmick. Betts fouled to Pinelli. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Sixth Inning
Sand flied to Duncanson. Williams singled to right. So did Lee. Williams taking third. Caveney gobbled Tierney's liner and doubled Lee by a peg to Daubert. No runs, two hits, no errors.

Seventh Inning
Metz bounced to Rixey. Pinelli threw out Henline. Moken walked. Holke forced Moken. Kimmick to Caveney. No runs, no hits, no errors. Hargrave lofted to Lee. Pinelli bounced to Betts. Caveney bounced to Tierney. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Eighth Inning
Betts fanned. Sand bounced to Caveney. Williams bounced to Kimmick. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Rixey bounced to Metz. Burns bounced to Betts. Daubert fanned. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Ninth Inning
Lee singled over second. Tierney forced Caveney. Kimmick to Caveney. Wilson batted for Metz and fouled to Daubert. Henline bounced to Caveney. No runs, one hit, no errors.

First Inning
Sand looped to Roush. So did Williams. Walker whiffed. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Second Inning
Another example of "efficiency!" The Reds failed to score after the first two men up had hit safely. Duncanson started by heating a roller to short. Bressler singled over third. Then the time-worn and worthless play of bunting a runner to third was dragged out. As might be expected, Burns was forced at third on Kimmick's bunt, Wilson to Wrightstone. Roush forced Kimmick. Tierney to Sand. Duncanson skied to Walker. No runs, two hits, no errors.

Third Inning
Tierney fanned. Wrightstone spiraled to Duncanson. Moken drove to Burns. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Fourth Inning
Hargrave drew a walk. Moken made a neat catch off Pinelli. Cheers for Fowler as he debuted—but he flied to Moken. Donohue beat a slow one to third—Burns forced Donohue, Tierney to Sand. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Fifth Inning
Holke singled to center. Wilson doubled to center. Mitchell breezed. Sand walked. Williams should have been out, Bressler to Donohue, but Burns dropped the ball and Holke and Wilson raced home. Walker's fly to Duncanson scored Sand. Williams perished, Hargrave to Fowler. Three runs, two hits, one error.

Sixth Inning
Bressler lifted to Williams. Kimmick bounced to Sand. Roush fouled to Holke. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Seventh Inning
Burns made a fine running catch off Tierney. Wrightstone was out. Hargrave to Bressler. Moken flied to Burns, no runs, no hits, no errors. This was the fastest rolling the Reds have enjoyed for some time, and the fans were treated to a triple with the bases full. Duncanson fouled to Wrightstone. Hargrave singled to left.
